Summary

Title says it all.... Don't think this one needs an elaborate presentation.... A simple leaf shaped soap dish!

Its a soap dish, quite easy to figure out. :) Nice minimalist leaf design, with easy to clean parts.

Its a strong design, with thick walls and large corner radius at the bottom for easy cleaning, and its made to be printed with a 0.3 layer height for a faster print.

Note: When you open the stl file, you'll find a pretty large soap dish. The actual size is made for handmade soaps, which are often larger, thicker than regular soaps.

On the last picture you have a regular soap on the dish, to give you a size of proportions of the actual size. If it looks ok to you, just print it as is... But if not, you can scale it down if you want, walls are thick enough for this.
