The existing Hermione Granger Wand designs all look nice, but all of the vines have hard edges and I didn't care for that design. I set out to design a more organic version to have a custom model to sell in my Etsy shop. I'm releasing it under a non-commercial license for personal use, because I believe in the open source nature of the 3D printing community.

The shape was modeled from reference photographs from the movie prop, and then detailing was done by hand utilizing a custom texturing technique. Hermione's Wand is an organic work, so no attempt was made to make a 1:1 duplicate of the movie prop, but designed to recreate the look and feel of the original.

You can order it printed and finished directly from my Etsy shop (as well as other great Harry Potter inspired wands) at <https://www.etsy.com/shop/IamFossCustomPrints>
