2020 is a complex time, to say the least.

We have lost a lot of the activities and interactions that we enjoyed in previous years, we all know that. However, let's focus on the happier and comedic sides.

We can also count 2020 as a year when printers around the world, including us, stepped up to create PPE for our essential workers.

On the comedic side. When, or if, our children and grandchildren ask if 2020 was like what they read in textbooks we can reply "You had to be there" then continue strolling, knowing full well that we spent a lot more time binging Netflix than we care to admit, at least I did. :)

Print instructions

Just slice the STL and print it. :) A simple print for complex times.

The Gcode estimation is for both the base one and the one with extra decoration.

One thing I recommend doing is waiting until after 2020 to print it, don't want to jinx anything.

Happy printing!

ps: Any recommendations on a color palette are welcome.
