Summary

A modified crab pen holder from Thangs that is easier to print, also painted for multi-color printing in Bambu Studio.

The original model needed support in the eye holes in my experience, so I made the eye holes the bare minimum depth. I also have included the multicolor painted file for Bambu Studio in case you want to print it with different colored eyes on a BL printer.

Supports are still required for the legs and are recommended for the claws, although not required as long as you have adequate part cooling (and don't mind a little drooping).

Edit: This is not the crab from Etsy, I am not affiliated with the Jace Crab people or the people who made this model, but it's objectively not the same or even related. I understand there was some "legal trouble" with the original model and although it's laughably ridiculous, please contact me if you need this model removed.

Happy printing!
