This cute and simple dinosaur friend makes an excellent desk companion and comes in two different varieties, shorter and longer legs. The difference isn't massive between the two but I thought it would be best to give folks choice. In the photos the green dino was printed at 100% scale while the gray ones are at 50%.

Supports are needed but I had no need for a brim or raft myself.

Thank you so much for checking out this remix of Michael McGoldrick's wonderful original.
