This is a remix of guiosca's simple gameboard overlay which I found excellent for its simplicity, speed of printing, and ability to print on a smaller format print bed.

The changes are small. I increased the thickness 0.3mm to provide a bit more stiffness and more importantly added a clip, to each printed part at the center of the scoring section, to better hold the ends of the grid down.

I printed this in PETG to give it added durability and used tree supports, 10% density and in contact with the print bed, to facilitate support removal.

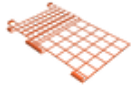

This remix is based on
