My wife needed something to hang her very long necklaces on. So I designed this stand for her.

It is made of a base part, a bar that can be printed more than once to get the height you need and an optional middle part. The Top is then used to hang the necklaces on.

The whole thing can be glued together like you want.

We printed all in pink prusament PLA and one bar from a silver PLA.

This design was made in ONSHAPE.
