Are you geek enough ?

Try this QR Code door hanger and make your room mates wonder., or use it when you want to keep a secret message away from your granny
...

This doorhanger was created with my python-enabled openscad fork. It has all the power of python integrated, so no extra step or intermediate scad code needed.

Print the STL with white filament then use a small brush to carefully paint the surface of the pixels with black varnish. It works incredible well.

Customize your secret message. check my openscad site at
