Summary

I made a ventilation duct cover in diameter 47mm because we needed it and we couldn't find it because of the odd size.

I made a ventilation duct cover in diameter 47mm because we needed it and we couldn't find it because of the odd size.

The only things you will need are some superglue and the printed part.

I suggest you use PETG for outside use, and I think it doesn't really matter for inside.

I suggest you print the part with the presets shown on the photo's
