A bookshelf insert/bookend of the Bioshock Rapture lounge area, with light-up window and removable figurines of Little Sister and Big Daddy!

This was made after HEAVILY modifying / changing the objects listed below. Efforts included: making the little sister actually printable, cutting up / making the room scene manifold, adding the fairy lights hole and bookend piece, etc.

To make: I printed the main bookend frame cut-up so that I could change out filament in the middle to make it multi-color, but you can print it however you want (all one color and then paint it, for example). The figurines and door print separately and fit snugly into their respective holes. Any standard fairy light will fit in the hole on the side, and the lights can be turned on/off easily; the window part is thin enough that, if you print in any suitably light-colored material, will show through clearly!

Let me know if you'd like any modifications/feedback, I'll update the files :)
