A friend wanted money presents for her birthday to pay the party and a journey. That's why i designed this box.

The bank notes are fully enclosed. Means you have to pause the print when it reaches around 10mm height, lay in the folded notes (apply some sticky tape to keep them folded) and resume printing. That works perfectly with my monoprice mini delta that can be paused via menu. If your printer firmware doesn't provide this function you have to edit the gcode and insert a pause of around 15 or 20 seconds and a resume command.

The eyelet allows fixing the pig with a ribbon on a gift card.

The photos are from the first version that didn't had a muzzle...
