you've heard of Chuck Norris and You've heard of Nunchucks.... but now you too can be the proud owner of your very own pair of Norris Chucks!

this is my first successful design in tinkercad so be gentle... I'm a fan of puns so when this one occurred to me I had to make it happen. I printed a smaller earlier version for a proof of concept but as of posting have not printed this iteration yet... any feedback or ideas on how I can improve this would be greatly appreciated!

Edit 1: with testing found out my chains where touching so I completely redesigned those to hopefully come out as intended. print this with regular supports as tree failed for me

DISCLAIMER: While I did some testing with an early version and the rings seem sturdy enough take care if you intend to put cord or chain on these and swing them around like the ninja you were meant to be... as they could break under the right conditions USE AT YOUR OWN RISK. This is intended as a Prop not a functional weapon please treat it as such!
