Summary

I designed this model to fit in the bottom section of my hard case, underneath the remote controller

Fit enough blades and screws for more than a full swap. Also stores a mini and full size/adapter SD card. I know I could've squeezed them together, but there was some left over real estate and I thought it looked cooler lol. I have the orange and gray Keketoha hard case, and this fits perfectly under the controller slot. I assume it would fit no problem in the Fly More kits bag.
Last thing... I realized afterward I should have added a graphic, or maybe a top/bottom label. I decided to keep it plain, once again for aesthetics.
Good luck!
