There was a really good one of these Helmets over at the MiniFactory that Daniel Lillygreen did, but 'm not sure what happended to it and as a big fan and due to the share number of requests.

Here it is in all its glory. Also a big thanks to Shane for providing the original file for me to edit!

Do check the sizing suits your needs. I've also tried to be clever with this one and seperate all the pieces in such away it should make the components easy to print.

Still untested and I'll try and find some time to split the individual pieces further, Good luck,Cheers Jace
