Here I have my model of the Quickdraw blaster seen in the Jedi Survivor game.

There were no free models available so decided to make my own.

I have taken many screenshots from within the game itself to try and get all the details in place, I believe I have got the Scale correct.

All parts are split by colour allowing you to customize just as you would in the game.

I have left some cutouts for real screws to be inserted (M3 5mm socket screws) but this isn't completely essential, just for added detail.
