This is a clover shaped stand for an ID-52, which is sure to catch the eye of Icom's product designers.

Remix of the very nice ICOM ID-51 Handheld Radio Desk Stand by Screw_Loose.

Part of the Lucky Charms collection! ;)

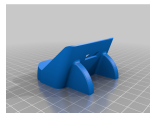

I'm guessing 200mm x 200mm will be fine if you watch out for that massive stem. MIND THE STEM, SIR! I sliced this thing all crazy for two reasons. Number One. I wanted to use the contour surface thing to see if I could make the leaves look more natural. I failed. Number Two. I was worried that the stem, which was no end of trouble, would break. So I sliced it with my security camera spacer settings.

You can drive a truck over my security camera spacers.

They may not survive, depending upon type and size of truck.

In any event, I succeeded! The stem is a monster.
