This is yet another version of the tried and tested dog poop bag holder. What is so special about this one you ask? Well, it's 2 mm smaller and has a little hook on the side to hang the bag full of poop. Now mind you I have a pretty small dog, and it produces accordingly small poop. If you have a dog the size of a horse, this little hook is not for you. What would the neighbors think if they saw you walking around with a 10-pound bag of poop attached to your (superb) dog poop bag holder?

As with the latest version, this holder can be placed on the dog's leash with a bit of effort, depending on the size of the leash. Once it's in there, it's NOT going anywhere, trust me.

For those who like to play around with 3D models, I've included the 3D files in SolidWorks 2020 format.
