Summary

This is my shot at modeling the code cylinder seen on Imperial Uniforms throughout Star Wars media.

This is an Imperial code cylinder seen on Imperial uniforms throughout Star Wars media. It is used to access restricted locations and also to access restricted data in the Star Wars Universe.

This one is about 12.5 mm in main body diameter and also is modeled with a clip so it does not sink to the bottom of your pocket. I didn't bother to paint mine, but painting (or using multiple colors of material) is necessary for the most accuracy.
