Summary

A perch for small birds to queue up while the married Finch couple protect their dragon's hoard of seed.

Some simple Perches that can be glued or fastened to a bird feeder or birdhouse. I included both 45 and 90 degree supports as I could see adding these to the roof of the feeder if it is acrylic like mine. I'll sometimes have Chickadees, Nuthatches, and Juncos waiting patiently at a nearby bush for an opportunity to quickly snatch seed before being shooed away by the mated finch pair that have set up shop in my feeder. I hope by expanding the number of "seats" at the dinner table more birds will get to eat. That or the Finches get Christmas Caroled and learn the folly of their ways. My moneys on the perch though.
