Pretty basic little thing to hold the wife's makeup pads. Also was nice for holding badages for the dog, pills, paper clips, etc., etc. Just a simple little somewhat water proof case.

I highly advise making one part out of TPU. It did a pretty good job of keeping makeup pads moist for a good many months. I made a little lip on the top of the inside part that presses up against the outside part and helps to make a pseudo gasket.

Either way, I'd advise TPU on one and PLA or whatever on the other. Message me for the fusion 360 files if you want them.
