Make use of extra space under your kitchen cabinets with these cutting board brackets.

We needed homes for the two large wooden cutting boards we use for prep work and charcuterie in our kitchen. I designed a bracket with multiple holes for mounting screws in case there were surprises during installation. Now we have the perfect places for our cutting boards, after using them, we wash and drip-dry for a few seconds, then they go right back in the holders until next time. We put a couple adhesive felt pads on each cutting board-facing surface of the bracket to prevent scratching.

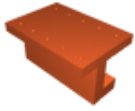

Printed on our Prusa Mini+
