made this model to fit on the side of my bed to hold my skincare routine like moisturiser and deodorant I left a rectangle so if my deodorant changes then I just print a different insert, when making the holes for your things add some extra tolerances so product can slide in and out, you can also use this on the side of a bath just change the length on the hook you can use this with a mug holder or some food if you plan to use this while using the bath pla might deform so petg or abs
