The back of this TV is rounded, making the vesa mount feel less than sturdy. These spacers provide a flat mounting area for your vesa rails or mount to attach to. I mounted 3 of these TVs and all three of mine had one hole centered and one offset. The two models are different, I'd assume that my TVs came off an assembly line about the same time so check out the offset of your holes before printing. This is very specifically for the Sansui S65VAUG 65". I purchased them from microcenter.
