Summary

I'm sure you've got some space on your desk for a teeny tiny castle, right?

Do you like castles? I love them. I like them so much, I decided I wanted to make a set of tiny little 3D castle parts so that I can build and rebuild castles of many different arrangements. So I made these, and they are just the cutest. So now I am uploading them for others to play with. Enjoy, and feel free to remix some new castle parts - I'm eager to see what others come up with!

And while you are printing these wonderful castle parts, be sure to go check out my other project, FroGOLF, that I entered in the Prusa Tabletop Games Contest! Be sure to print out at least one spring-action frog of your very own!
