Traditional Mandalorian armor consisted of a helmet, shoulder pauldrons, vambraces, breastplate, codpiece, kneepads, and thigh and shin guards clasped over a body stocking. Most Mandalorians painted their armor, though some, such as Din Djarin, did not paint their pure beskar pieces.

Mandalorian helmets often had a macrobinocular viewplate, tactical heads-up displays, a comlink, and an antenna tipped with a rangefinder that could be pulled over the viewplate to enhance imagery. Mandalorians also wore magnetized boots .Sabine Wren programmed a holo-imager in her helmet's rangefinder to take snapshots.
