There's something about Primitive Mechs that has always enchanted me. There are quite a few in the canon, but I also wanted to make one of my own. Thus, the DC-1 DeSoto was born. Not only did I make a backstory for this mech, I also made a record sheet and a 3D printable miniature which you can find here in the zip file. You can find the backstory over on my gaming blog, Fistful of Valkyries.
