Back when me and the guys were in High School, Zulu Zee was one of the most memorable characters in our D&D group. This guy was fantastic, utterly insane, and the guy who created and played him was amazing at it. Zulu Zee was the most heavily armed and armored character in the group, and ultimately ended up with his own castle armed with a massive, magical minigun emplacement over the front gate. His origin story was simple: He was from "Jumbo-Boot, Land of Gods." Those were some great days.

Requires supports, but they're minimal and easy to peel off.

If you like my work and want to see (and print) more of it, please consider stopping over at my online miniatures store at Punkin' Figs, All of my 3D printable releases are printed before release to insure that they print well even on a simple, starter FDM printer.
