I needed to make a meeples for one of my RPG characters, so I figured I'd share her here with y'all on Thingiverse. This is Zisa, the one-armed paladin who worships the god Tyr. After she lost her sword arm, she trained her other arm until she became better with it than she had been with her lost arm (that's why it's so beefy.) She also has a wolf familiar (not pictured) named Vengeance.

I've recently started making special hero meeples available for sale. Need a hero, a villain or just an NPC that you can mass-print in any color you choose? Looking for something simple and minimalistic to give your Roleplaying Game (or board game) some sleek and streamlined style? Meeples on my site "Punkin' Figs" are a simple, inexpensive alternative to high detail miniatures, and need no paint in order to look great! Find more over at www.punkinfigs.com.
