I am only a rookie, so this is some of my 'best' TinkerCad'ing - I resized the phone holder portion of the original model by @Kl0ck to fit the Google Pixel 7 Pro. I broke the model apart much like @ObliviousOrange did in a similar remix, then resized the phone holder portion to fit a pixel 7 pro. Then did it all over again, because like most folks, my wife's phone has a case, and the holder part needed to get a touch bigger.

I included a couple .3mf files. One for bare phone, another with a standard case. I also included the original arm and holder, as well as my modified holder as separate parts so you can drop drop, rotate and all that fun stuff til your hearts content.

The 3mf for phones with a case has some rotation and the arm is off center. My wife found it worked better for her, but your mileage may vary.
