Recently, I saw someone using a toilet to feed birds, which I found quite interesting. Since it seemed simple to make, I decided to try it myself.

Originally, I intended to use white printing material, but I found out that I had run out of it. The orange toilet looks a bit strange, doesn't it? I think it would have looked better in white.

The birds seem to enjoy it, though! From being a novice to becoming a bird poop cleaner, forgive my little mischievous hobby.
