A festive way to use leftover bits and pieces of filament.

I went for minimal material (and slight transparency) with no infill and single wall for the body but the ring kept breaking apart, to avoid the problem i used cura's helper volumes to set only the problematic part at 100% infill (<https://3dprinting.stackexchange.com/questions/6522/different-infill-in-the-same-part/6523#6523>). So far it worked fine printing ring down with supports on build plate only and raft
