My wife recently got a Jeep Willis, and now she's on the Ducks in the Jeep train...

So I thought I would make a few custom ducks for here. Here is one of the first ones to come out. Jason Voorhees Duck.

Every day can be Friday the 13th!

I printed this at 0.1 mm with 5% infill, 3 perimeters walls.

I also used organic support - build plate only

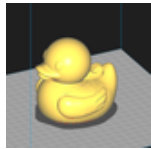

I would suggest something a bit more heat resistant than PLA, as these guys sitting on the dash may bake a bit.

<UPDATE>

I have reworked the machete as it was a bit on the thin side after my test print. I have also made it all one file with the mask as a separate piece, this way the details are better preserved when printing. There is also a version without the machete.

The peg holes are about 2mm, which is about the same width as round toothpicks, or at least the ones I have. :)
