Summary

Articulated octopus combined with the Aztec Death Whistle. I think it needs to be printed without supports.

Aztec Death Whistle combined with the articulating octopus. Makes a great gift.

Instructions

Print without supports. PrusaSlicer will say that it needs supports, it does not need supports. This may not adhere to the bed very well, so if it doesn't, clean your bed or use glue.

Post-Print

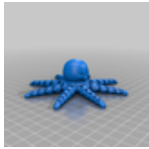

I highly recommend using a PEI build plate. Be extremely careful taking it off the plate anyways, being unwary about taking it off has resulted in dozens of failures of articulated prints for me. Breathe out loud and powerful into the whistle for best screaming results.
