Was annoyed with my tokens falling off the HMS marker the expansion came with. So I designed a fortress that can hold the tokens. Made it in the image of the silhouette on the original marker.

There is one small version and one normal version included. The small version will probably be enough for you if you just use the standard troop tokens and/or the standard size map.

If you use a bigger map and/or the printable token-casings i would recommend the normal size version. The photos are of the normal sized one. One photo is in relation to the normal sized map, one in relation to the deluxe map.

Printed mine in 0.18mm layer height, came out perfect.
