Summary

It's the Rivian logo with holes going out to the bolts with standard spacing for a license plate in the US.

The curvy arms were intended to look like rivers, in keeping with Rivian's adventure mindset. They ended up looking more like tentacles but I like it anyway. Excuse the dirty truck, but she's a farm girl so she gets dirty. lol

It's an easy print lying face up on the bed. I printed it out of PLA expecting it to immediately fall apart, but it's lasted a couple weeks now so who knows.
