I designed this as the final version of my Coat Hanger Hook collection.

Even though my previous two versions were extremely well received, there were a few requests for a smaller version as not all bags could fit over the hook profile.

This has been designed the same as the previous two versions to be an easy support free print.

It also has the added strengthening rib running through the model the same as the Heavy Duty version.

If you like this model, check out my previous versions and I'm sure you'll find the one that suits you best.
