I ran into the issue that the Ortlieb Waterproof City bag is quite hard to close due to the side-mounted female buckles. Also, you lose a significant amount of space compared to the classical roll-top bags that close buckle-to-buckle. My take on it was a real game changer for how I use these bags. For convenience and to not lose the adapter, I also added a hole in between the two female sides to attach the adapter via a string to one of the male buckles.

Printed in Sunlu PETG Black on a Bambu A1 Mini using the 0.2 mm strength profile.
