A little standee for boardgame cardboard figures. It fits in games as Gloomhaven or Into the Deep.

I recommend printing a test model before printing a batch, as different brands of filament can produce slightly different dimensions of the slot. That said, I used it with half a dozen filaments at 0.12 and all of them were OK, but with slightly different tight.

It's printed supportless. I suggest printing it with 100% infill just to add some weight (not necessary for model strenght).
