Everyone loves walking into your cabin on a cruise to find these amazingly cute towel origami animals right?

I know I do!

My sister has just started learning how to do this which is what inspired this elephant! I will be adding more to my patreon as and when they are finished and tested so be sure to follow the page for updates! <https://www.patreon.com/prettyinprints3d> - commercial licence available.

These are printed in 0.1, 0.3 and 0.4 fuzzy skin but you can decide which you like best. I've set the stl up on the 0.1 so if you want it fuzzier you will need to up that number.

2 wall loops, 1 skirt loop

Tree supports: auto, on build plate only (should already be set to just support ears and chin)

10% gyroid infill

0.2 layer height with a 0.4 nozzle

The white ones pictured are at 150% and all files are set to 150% so please resize

I have also added a keyring version too.
