I thought, Hey, why don't I make a funnel for the peppermill? So I made one. The only thing is I didn't look to see if there were any already made in printables. Sadly, after I designed and printed it, I checked to see if anyone else made one, and sure enough, there were a dozen out there. Well, ST there were. Oh well, here it is anyway.

It is a little shorter, though, so it has less material and prints faster. Print upside down with organic supports should come out fine.
