The Leaf Blade is all about aerodynamics - the face, snout, eyebrows have all been enhanced to portray maximum speed. Obviously had to keep that grin but looking at it from the front with the more aggressive features its all business. I wanted to do something different with the tail and make it a bit taller than most dragon tail ends - I almost went even higher but liked where I ended up.

Can't wait to see the color combos on this one! Post some pics!! :)

Printing Tips:

This is a medium sized dragon so if you're trying to scale it down I would not print below 70%. When I did 65% the smaller tail joints were starting to get down to single wall thicknesses.
