I wanted to enter something to the Flash contest and be able to work on my fusion skills So I made this. I'm having issues with my printer, so I won't be able to print it to post a photo. If anyone can post a photo and let me put it on the Model page it would be appreciated.

If you are to have any issues with the model, please let me know and I will try to help. you may have to scale down the screw size by a little bit.

I would recommend using something a little bit stronger than pla but pla will probably not be an issue.
