Just added hex holes to the design by @volly. As i own about 10 of these boys around the house, for every 4 i printed i saved enough filament for 1 extra one.

original design

Saves aprox 25% fillament.

My bed adhesion wasnt the best, so i needed to use a 5mm brim which is easily removable.

Print with the Y axis following the bide side (as seen in the pictures).

The design is strong enough to withstand a 200 pound gorilla reaming and plugging stuff in.
