I'm excited to introduce my creation to you, and I hope it will serve you well if you choose to download and use it.

First, it's important to note that this product—specifically the stakes—should be used in medium soil to avoid breakage. When assembling, make sure the holes are clean and deburred. I recommend using two-part epoxy or super glue to secure the magnets. You'll need a total of four neodymium magnets in two different sizes: D11x3 mm and D8x3 mm.

It's crucial that the two magnetic sides are not aligned with the same poles facing each other, as this would prevent the magnets from attracting.

If you want to use this product at the beach, lay out your towel, ensuring it's not too thick. Then, pin down the four corners of the towel with the stakes, and place the hammer heads on top to securely hold the towel in place.

I hope this guide proves useful and helps make your beach trips and vacations even more enjoyable!
