This is a keychain version of Beskar, the Mandalorian alloy from the Star Wars TV show. This keychain prints in multiple colors to accentuate the texture and design of the Beskar steel. There are two versions - one with a keychain hole so you can hang it on a bag, and another without the hole to be used as a prop, toy, or display piece. If you have a Bambu Labs printer, there are pre-painted .3mf files available.

The default prints with three colors - silk silver for the top / sides / bottom, dark gray for the grooves, and black for the imperial insignia. You can also use just two colors (silver and black) if you want a more subtle texture on the top.

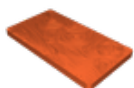

It is recommended that you print this at the highest resolution possible to ensure all of the detail shows up.
