Remix of a fantastic box insert that turns any Lorcana trove box into a holder for the Illumineer's Quest: Deep Trouble game (since Deep Trouble sadly has no good storage once you open it).

The insert has spots for the Ursula deck & two player decks (wide enough for sleeved cards) as well as a token holder, a slot for the difficulty cards & rules, a slot for the board (made extra wide in case you do anything to modify the board to make it sturdier, like adding chipboard backing to it) and slots for the trackers and lore counters.

Also included are the following parts made by me:

- Ocean floor themed player lore counter. It counts up to 24, and you can fit 2 copies (one for each player in a 2 player game) into the trove insert. You will need to use a bit of glue to hold the arrow base and arrow together when assembling the lore counters.

- Custom lore and card tracker tokens for Ursula that work with the game's included board.
